WEDNESDAY, MAY 8, 1882.

Licenses and Prohibiting Liquor Laws.

That people are found who honestly believe that more liquor would be used under a Prohibition than under a License Law, we have no doubt. But we believe, and reason differently, and we think statistics sustain us. We would as soon believe less stealing would result by a repeal of the law against showing or less disordering. If the law against killing was repealed, as to believe more strong drink would be used under strong prohibitory state, that would break if the law licensed it, and made it honorable. A law license for the manufacturer, importation and sale of strong drink is an "indulgence" granted by the Church, as in the days of Leather, but by civilized professed Christian nations. Strong drink is the great curse of all civilized nations.

It is true a license "indulgence" is not granted for the direct commission of crime as old, yet under the operation of this "indulgence" great and many crimes are committed.

In the United States statistics inform us,

"that nine-tenths of all the crimes of violence committed are the direct result of strong drink," and about "33 per cent. of all lives are made necessary by strong drink."

This is the result of the unlimited use of strong drink under the law's sanction and protection; results which would seem impossible under a Prohibition Law.

It is true a large quantity of liquor is now used in this kingdom under a partial Prohibition Law, and much demoralization and mischief is created by its use. The law as present probably gives the right to certain persons to first possess, to keep within the reach of every inhabitant of these Islands. The Chinese are willing tools for the cause of this profligate strong drink.

We hear that a bill is to be introduced into our coming Legislature granting to the King's the power to add "indulgences" for any sale of liquor, beer, wine, &c., &c.

It is to be hoped that this bill will not be introduced, as it would be a step toward the passing of such a law.

While the first bill seems to be a step toward the passing of such a law, we hope it will be the proper thing to do.

Strong drink is the greatest祸害 to which civilized nations have ever been subjected, and we hope it will be the proper thing to do.

It is to be hoped that the King's Government will not be induced to pass such a bill, as it would be a step toward the passing of such a law.
